

What's next? Great question.

The journey is not finished, far from it, it is just beginning in new ways as Jesus continues to renew you by the power of The Holy Spirit and your commitment to seek and grow in grace – the gifts He offers freely and a ready and joyful yes to His lead.

Several things can aid your next steps, including:

- Daily Time with The LORD – as you have tasted over this 40 days, it truly is better to have one day in His presence than 1000 any old other place. And, you know what – he offers that better day in His presence everyday. Prioritize time with Him. Put it on your calendar.
- Grow with others – be vigilant that your heart does not ask or assume upon a crowd what can only be done in a group or with a core. What does that mean, Mike? It means – find feasting opportunities with Jesus and others in a small group. The Body of Christ is better when you are in it. One body doesn't have only one part. Be a part, because you are a part.
- Serve with others – We are designed for growth in a world of atrophy and entropy. As we give and serve, we grow. God-given gifts are in you to glorify Him and build up the Body of Christ in the process. Join in as a Kingdom Contributor.
